

PHILIPPINE BILL IS PASSED OVER HOOVER'S VETO

LAW-MAKERS OF ISLAND OPPOSE MEASURE, CLAIM

Insular Legislature Wants Immediate Independence

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Congress today enacted the Philippines Independence Bill over President Hoover's veto and cast the issue into another phase of uncertainty arising from the insular legislature's attitude toward the measure.

For the island law-makers must approve the bill before it becomes effective and indications from Manila are that strong and determined opposition may be expected from a faction that wants immediate and unrestricted freedom, as contrasted with the ten-year transitional period provided by the bill which passed today.

A rush of Senate votes served to sweep aside President Hoover's vigorous and repeated objections. The bill was repassed in that chamber today by a vote of 66 to 26—five more than the necessary two-thirds—the House voted 73 to 94 last week to set aside the President's veto and make the bill law.

Object to Measure

Members of the Philippines Independence Mission here have received a cablegram from a caucus of about half the members of the island legislature objecting to the measure, although Manila dispatches said many of those who attended did not participate in voting to send the message. It said: "Representatives agreed by practically unanimous vote the Hawes Cutting bill as repassed by Congress will not be accepted by the present membership of the House even after the return of the mission."

"The membership of the mission is informed if no other legislation can be secured, the present law should continue until receiving from the democratic administration legislation giving immediate independence in the sense it should not be postponed except for the time necessary to effect a transfer of sovereignty."

Under the act, when the legislature meets in session, the islands must then elect delegates to a convention to draw up a constitution acceptable to the President of the United States which probably will require two years or more.

Then ten years of economic and political trial begins during which time immigration and free imports from the islands to the United States will be reduced—immigration to 50 a year and free entry of sugar, coconut oil and cordage to figure comparable with those of the present time.

Complete withdrawal of American sovereignty immediately after expiration of the ten-year transition period.

Forty-five democrats, 20 republicans and the one farmer-labor Senator—Shipstead of Minnesota—voted to override the veto.

Twenty-five republicans and seven democrats—Copeland of New York—voted to sustain the President.

Of the four Senators not voting, Brookhart, Iowa, and Thomas, Idaho, republicans, were paired for overriding the veto, with Senator Carey, Wyoming republican, for sustaining him.

Senator Kink (D., Utah), long an advocate of more prompt independence, was the lone member absent and not paired.

Old Gray Mule Is Marooned In Flooded Shaft

Harrisburg, Jan. 17.—(AP)—"Mike," an old gray mule, is marooned in the flooded Old Gray No. 3 mine here and miners today are wondering how they are going to get the animal out.

Seepage of water into the shaft which has been flooded for more than a week, was slow enough to warn all of the workmen, but conditions became such that it was found impossible to get Mike out. However, with the agility of a goat, the mule attained a height out of the water and has managed to stay out.

Flood relief workers have made a pet of Mike who follows them with the devotion of a faithful dog when they stop at his lonely "island" on the "bottom" of the mine. Mike, it is said, is being plentifully rationed and is being made as comfortable as possible.

ATTEMPT BEING MADE TO BREAK FILIBUSTERS

Three Proposals For Modifying Rule Offered

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Three proposals for modifying the senate's traditional rules of unlimited debate were inspired today by the filibuster of the Glass Bank bill has aroused democratic leaders sought to break the rebellion within their ranks by cloture.

The deep schism on the democratic side of the senate was sharply outlined as 29 members of the party signed the cloture petition directed at a minority led by Long of Louisiana that has been blocking nearly all senate action for a week.

Making the rule effective, depended upon republican support, which Senator Watson, majority leader, predicted would not be given, a vote will be taken Thursday. A two-thirds majority is necessary.

The proposals for changing the senate's historic and often criticized rule of unlimited debate indicated however, that the filibuster may have even more far-reaching consequences.

One of them came from Senator Robinson, of Arkansas, democratic leader, who sought to make it possible to limit debate by a majority instead of a two-thirds vote.

Senator Tydings, (D., Md.), who revealed he was considering resigning in disgust at the senate's procedure, proposed a rule limiting debate for the remainder of the session, while Senator Hastings, (R., Del.), suggested making a permanent limitation of two hours on speeches, subject to extension by the senate.

With the senate in a turmoil over the parliamentary situation, Senator Glass, (D., Va.), took the floor to denounce the "circus performance" of the filibusters.

Without naming Senator Long, the diminutive Virginian lashed into many of his statements as "misrepresentations" and "falsehoods."

The cloture petition was presented to the senate by Robinson.

Meanwhile, some senators who deplore the failure of the senate to legislate and yet are opposed to use of the cloture opened negotiations with Long for a compromise.

With 47 democrats in the senate, 18 either refused or were not asked to sign the petition.

TWO PER CENT SALES TAX IS INTRODUCED

Measure Is Advanced To Second Reading In Senate

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 17.—(AP)—The two per cent sales tax bill introduced to bring relief to the state's unemployed was introduced in the State Senate late today by Senator Francis J. Loughran of Chicago, and advanced to a second reading.

Proponents of the bill estimated it would raise some $30,000,000 in revenue.

Advancement of the bill came over objection of Senator Charles I. Thompson, Harrisburg, who demanded that the measure be referred to committee. He said already there was enough legislation on the statute books to meet the needs for the present emergency and that he believed the people of the state were opposed to a sales tax.

Rules Suspended

Senator Richard D. Murphy, majority leader, suspended the sale of the bill and its four companion measures to a second reading and holding a general hearing on them. By a vote of 39 to 11 the rules were suspended and the bills advanced.

Shortly after convening at 4 p. m., the senate went into executive session and confirmed four appointments by Governor Horner. They were Robert Kinney of Winnetka, assistant director of public works and buildings; Ernest Lieberman, Chicago, chief highway engineer; Daniel Sullivan, Chicago, administrative auditor, and A. H. R. Alwood, Palatine, assistant director of labor.

The prohibition repeal bill now on third reading came in for another tiff on the floor when Senator Thompson attempted to offer a measure intended to amend the bill's second reading for amendment. After considerable argument over the methods of procedure, Thompson was ruled out of order and he requested that his communication be returned to him without being read.

The senate today confirmed the appointment of A. H. Alwood, Palatine, Ill., as assistant director of the state department of labor. In announcing Alwood's appointment, Gov. Horner said the extensive experience of the Palatine man who formerly was performance director of the Western Electric Co. should give him great usefulness in projected plans to increase employment. The Governor aims at obtaining through his aides the employment of large numbers on the relief rolls in some useful work which will not displace workers gainfully employed.

The new chief executive has said that to maintain the fine courage for which the American people are noted the man who accepts relief must be placed in a position to give something back to the state.

The assistant labor director will give his attention to this phase of the Horner program, it was said.

Appointment of Charles Thompson of Chicago, former president of the Chicago Athletic Club, to conduct a survey of the state division of printing was announced today by the Governor. H. L. Williamson, Springfield, resigned as state superintendent of printing along with other republican officials of the former administration. Mr. Thompson in his survey economies in the printing division, which the Governor said has reduced one of the largest appropriations. Gov. Horner while intimating some of the division's activities might be consolidated with other departments to effect savings, has not said the division would be abolished.

TO CONTINUE U. S. POLICY IN FAR EAST

Roosevelt Makes His First Declaration On Affairs

By Francis M. Stephenson
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—In one of his first declarations on official affairs, President-elect Roosevelt indicated to the world today a continuation of the American policy in the far east crisis.

"American foreign policy must uphold the sanctity of international treaties," he said in a statement. "The words were written out by him when asked by newspapermen to comment on reports from Washington of an understanding between himself and Secretary Stimson on continuation of the policy of non-recognition of territory acquired in violation of treaties."

Mr. Stimson first enunciated this program at the height of the Japanese-Chinese conflict last year.

Activities Revived

Renewed activities in the far east have revived the whole issue and it is believed this subject was gone over thoroughly at the recent Stimson-Roosevelt meeting. Mr. Roosevelt said in his statement any statement relating to any particular foreign situation must, of course, come from the Secretary of State of the United States.

"I am, however, wholly willing to make it clear that American foreign policy must uphold the sanctity of international treaties."

"That is a cornerstone on which all relations between nations must rest. Attempts to link this declaration with the war debts treaties proved unavailing. The President-elect said that was all there was to be said by him."

Foreign affairs continued to hold the Roosevelt attention throughout the day. Col. E. M. House, adviser of President Wilson on international relations, called again at a luncheon conference. Late today, Frank L. Polk, an under Secretary of State in the Wilson administration, was received.

Mr. Roosevelt described the visits as "goodbyes" for him before he starts south on Thursday.

Looking over his schedule he said he would probably start for the week's yachting cruise in southern waters from Jacksonville, Fla., about Feb. 4 or 5.

Father Charles E. Coughlin, of Detroit, spent "a friendly visit" during the day at the Roosevelt home. He said he would call again February 15.

Former Judge Ben Lindsey and William H. Evans, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Culver City, California, called together. They said they were interested in unemployment relief but did not go into details in their comment.

Tonight Mr. Roosevelt and his family were guests of his mother, Mrs. James Roosevelt, Sr., at dinner.

Cabinet speculation continued to buzz around here today but the President-elect snatched away inquiries in this direction.

FARM RELIEF PICTURE HAS NEW ASPECT

Roosevelt's Proposal Brings Conflicting Reactions

By F. G. Vesburgh
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The farm relief picture at Washington took on a totally new aspect tonight with members of Congress expressing varied and conflicting reactions to President-elect Roosevelt's proposal that the "domestic allotment" bill, passed by the House, be confined to heat and cotton.

Options differed as to whether the bill's chances for enactment would be enhanced or hindered under Mr. Roosevelt's plan but signs of fluctuation among the congressional advocates of the five products which would be eliminated—tobacco, hog, dairy products, rice and peanuts.

The views of the new President were expressed by Senator Ellison D. Smith, of South Carolina, ranking democrat on the agriculture committee, who was summoned to New York for a conference with him yesterday.

Senator Smith told reporters that Roosevelt's "first idea was to try to do one product—namely wheat—the idea being that if it did not work it would be easier to get the rest of the South Carolina Senator added that he told Mr. Roosevelt he thought a different principle of aid for cotton producers should be incorporated in the bill.

Senator Smith said he then outlined to his chief a plan under which the Government should guarantee the agricultural credit corporations, would lend the cotton farmer money enough to buy his crop on the present surplus-plugged market, wholly or in part, instead of planting one.

The cotton producer's acres for that one year would be planted in foodstuffs. The cotton obtained by the farmer without planting or growing would be held in trust for him by the Government until after August 1 when presumably the price would have risen.

Mr. Roosevelt's reaction to this plan was described by President-elect Stimson for discussion in an executive session of approval provided it represented the view of the cotton sections generally.

Operating on an entirely different basis, the "domestic allotment" plan provides for a system of bounties to be raised by taxing the producer of the commodity and paid to the farmer on his share of domestic production in an amount sufficient to equalize the present price with that which prevailed before the war.

The question of limiting the products now contained in the bill came up for discussion in an executive session of the Agriculture Committee but no action was taken.

Instead it was decided to have the bill explained behind closed doors tomorrow by its sponsor, chairman Jones (D., Tex.) of the Farm Organization, and the views of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

On the question whether public hearings should be held the committee took no action.

In the hum of discussion that followed, Mr. Roosevelt said the views of the committee would be expressed the view that it would have a better chance for passage if the bill were limited to one or two major exportable commodities so that its practicability might be determined in advance.

On the other hand it was said by some members of the House that the bill probably would not accept the bill if dairy products were eliminated by the Senate.

HOOVER SENDS MESSAGE TO CONGRESS URGING BUDGET BE BALANCED

BOGUS PRINCE PLEADS GUILTY IN U. S. COURT

Harry Gerguson Faces Maximum Sentence Of 50 Years

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Harry F. Gerguson, who used 27 royal aliases in his "gate-crashing" adventures here and in Europe, pleaded guilty today to federal indictments bearing a possible maximum sentence of 50 years in a penitentiary.

When the secretary of labor, thru an assistant U. S. attorney, made a recommendation of a three-year suspended sentence, federal Judge John C. Ryan declared Gerguson an "unconfessed conspirator" by declaring: "The court will not lend its aid to a valuable publicity stunt. This man should get another job and go to work like the rest of us without capitalizing his past performances on the stage."

Arthur Garfield Hays, Gerguson's attorney, immediately sought to have the plea of guilty withdrawn, but his motion was denied.

Must Appear Monday

The bogus "Prince Michael Romanoff" was then ordered to appear Monday for sentence.

In the presence of a curious crowd of spectators, which filled the courtroom, the lawyer and the dapper "man without a country" went into a whispered conference.

When it was over Hays told the court his client would terminate at once the vaudeville contract under which he has been appearing since he was released in $32,500 bail, after a mysterious entrance into the country from which he had been twice deported.

Then Gerguson himself stepped up. He was dressed as neatly as the Prince of Wales, whom he has often referred to as "my old friend Eddie."

"I didn't want the vaudeville contract," he said, making the "A" very broad. "I was urged to take it. It was the chance, it seemed, to rehabilitate myself, to earn some money and then I was told to go to the United States."

The judge gave no indication the arguments had changed his mind. When he left court at the noon recess, Gerguson's counsel conferred with him and sought a modification of his pronouncement against the self-styled prince appearing on the stage.

Winnie Judd ON STAND IN TRUNK CASE

Condemned Slayer Is Star Witness For State

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Hurling accusations from the witness stand at John J. Halloran, wealthy lumberman, Winnie Judd, condemned "trunk murderer," today hinted at an intention to commit suicide.

She was the state's star witness in Halloran's preliminary hearing, examined her on her story that Halloran aided after the killings and before the bodies were sent to Los Angeles in trunks.

Smith at the time of the outburst was questioning Mrs. Judd specifically about her testimony that "Jack took it" in connection with a mattress missing from the cottage where the women were slain.

Halloran is accused of "aiding and assisting" Mrs. Judd in disposing of Mrs. Leroy's body and "aiding, assisting and advising her to conceal the slaying, and to escape from Arizona to California."

The mattress from one of the beds in the house on which she asserted Halloran had lain the body of Miss Samuelson, after he had carried it from the kitchen to the bedroom, never has been found.

On direct testimony she had related that Halloran had accompanied her back to the cottage, when she ran from the place after killing Mrs. Leroy and Hedvig Samuelson in what she asserted was a fight in which she was attacked by them.

GENERAL SALES TAX PROPOSED BY PRESIDENT

Proposal Disregarded By Both Branches For Long Time

Washington, Jan. 17.—(AP)—An insistent reminder from President Hoover that there is a budget to be balanced faced Congress tonight but its members in main continued unmoved by his declaration that it would be "the essence of good statesmanship" to impose a low general sales tax.

The president dispatched his energetically worded message to the senate and house in mid-afternoon. Both chambers agreed to a lengthy period—the senate overriding his veto of the Philippines independence bill, and the house rejecting one more attempt by McPadden of Pennsylvania, to impeach the chief executive.

Republicans Applaud

But after it was read in the house and republicans had applauded, the first reaction was expressed by Chairman Burns (D., Tenn.), of the appropriations committee, who told the members that "in all the time I've been in congress I never heard a more amazing message sent to congress."

Indirectly Byrnes, his committee and the house all were scored by the presidential message for "disappointing results in reduction of appropriations."

The president proposed that "the sales tax blanket all commodities except food and cheap clothing. He said there would probably be a deficit between $500,000,000 and $700,000,000 for the next fiscal year, even with reduced appropriations, unless new revenues are obtained. He declared every principle of sound government called for a balanced budget; said this goal was "definitely within reach," but that greater effort would be required of congress.

"One of the most helpful contributions which the congress and this administration could give to the next administration," he reminded the dominant democratic for "would be to enable them to start the federal budget in black and the national debt in white."

The president urged the retirement of the debt from the market as a constant money borrower.

He said there should be an early refunding of part of the huge public debt, and urged this be done through long term bonds of low interest rate, applying particularly to outstanding high interest bearing liberty bonds and to parts of present short term borrowings as well.

MILLION DOLLAR SUIT IS FILED

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Suit for $1,000,000 was filed in supreme court today against John N. Willys, Automobile manufacturer and former ambassador to Poland, by counsel for Mrs. Violet A. Wall of San Francisco, who is administratrix of the estate of Mrs. Carolyn Armstrong.

Charles B. Mertz, secretary to Willys, was named co-defendant. The complaint alleged that Willys and Mertz had power of attorney from Mrs. Armstrong over her brokerage account with Shippee and Rawson. The complaint charged that the account in April 1930 had a credit balance of not less than $1,000,000 in cash and securities, and alleged that the two defendants withdrew the balance and converted it to their own use.

Miss Lavare's parents now reside at St. Joseph, Mo.

PAIR CONFESS TO KIDNAPING INDIANA MAN

Louis King and Jack Marvin Are Arrested By Federal Authorities

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Federal authorities today announced that Louis King, 24 and Jack Marvin, 22 had confessed the abduction and armed robbery of Ivan J. Light of South Bend, Ind., and the transportation of his automobile to Waycross, Ga., where they have been apprehended.

Agents of the United States Bureau of Investigation, who made the announcement, said King and Marvin also are alleged to have abducted John Lynza of Kankakee, Ill., two days before Light was kidnapped.

King and Marvin were arrested in Waycross shortly after the robbery of a drug store here in which they are charged with participating.

Indiana authorities, Government agents here said, are seeking the return of the men to face kidnapping, robbery and automobile theft charges.

King and Marvin are alleged to have forced Lynza, at the point of a gun, to drive them from Kankakee to South Bend, Ind., January 2, where Lynza and his wife were released.

Federal agents said the men confessed that two days later they commanded Light to drive them outside South Bend, where they robbed him of a small amount of money and left him gagged and bound to a tree.

The alleged confession then related, the agents said, how King and Marvin drove Light's automobile to Jacksonville, Fla., and after the drug store robbery here, fled to Waycross, Ga., where they were arrested by F. L. Martin, assistant chief of police.

Agents here said it had not yet been decided whether the men would be tried in federal court on a kidnapping charge or returned to South Bend to face charges of kidnapping, robbery and theft of the car.

MAYOR CERMAK RECALLS POLICE FROM SECRET SIX

Claims Woman Investigator Intruding on Police Investigations

Chicago, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Mayor Anton J. Cermak today ordered withdrawn all city policemen assigned to the "Secret Six" crime battling organization of the association of commerce.

The Mayor said he issued the order because Mrs. Shirley Kay, secret six investigator formerly employed by the police department, went to a roadhouse early Monday morning to investigate a bombing.

"I'm tired of hearing that she is intruding on police investigations," Cermak said. "From now on I want no policeman to talk to her or give her any information. Furthermore, I don't want her around the city hall."

Alexander Jamie, head of the secret six, said the Mayor had not conferred with him about the matter and that he was "astonished." He said he sent Mrs. 17th to the roadhouse to make a routine investigation.

"It's part of our job to investigate such crimes," Jamie said. "I'll take no action until the Mayor officially informs me of the withdrawal. There are five policemen attached to my office from the central station."

Mrs. Kay once figured in a grand jury investigation of alleged police department graft. She defied the grand jury and was sentenced for contempt of court.

Farmers Force Sale of Cows For Ten Cents

London, Wis., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Jefferson county authorities announced today that more than 250 farmers forced the sale of a dozen cows and a cream separator on bids of five and ten cents each at a mortgage foreclosure sale near here and then turned back the property to Otto Feback, the mortgagee.

District Attorney, Harold Dakin, reached by telephone at Jefferson today, said he had been called by witnesses and was studying the case with a possible view of taking action.

H. T. Hermanson of Columbia county, who foreclosed the mortgage was chased from the scene of the auction yesterday by a group of the farmers. John Porter of Cambridge, auctioneer, sold the items on bids of five and ten cents, when no one would raise them.

District Attorney, Dakin said most of the farmers came from adjoining Columbia county. Neither he nor Joseph Lange, sheriff of Jefferson county, who is investigating, was present at the sale.

POLICE BAFFLED BY SHOOTING OF BROADWAY BROWN

Body Found Near Garage With Two Bullet Wounds

Palmyra, N. J., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Conflicting evidence of murder and suicide tonight confronted police seeking the answer to the mysterious death of Broadway Brown, 28-year-old Philadelphia business executive, whose body was found pierced by two bullets. An autopsy that lasted three hours late today failed to turn up anything to prove either theory.

Brown, a Swarthmore college graduate, was found shot to death by police broke into his home at 1000 Broadway last night. His wife, the former Ruth McCauley, daughter of Mrs. E. S. H. McCauley, former state secretary of welfare, under Governor John Fisher in Pennsylvania, was visiting her parents at Beaver, in western Pennsylvania, with her two children, a 2-year-old daughter, Barbara.

Police Summoned

The police were summoned to the house by a neighbor who heard shots. Those favoring the theory that Brown met with foul play said that a bullet wound in his right side, near the hip, was fatal and that it might not have been self-inflicted.

Two hats were found. One, belonging to Brown, was discovered on the floor of the garage, near the victim's sedan, which has been run into the garage and left with its lights on and motor running.

The other hat, smaller than that worn by Brown, was found in the ground outside the double doors of the garage, on the far side of the house. Police also said they had information from a neighbor that two men were seen running near the Brown home shortly after two shots were heard.

Three other persons heard shots and said they thought they heard screams for help about the same time.

Perils of Landing

Two London society girls were flying back to the metropolis from Capetown, South Africa, they were forced down in the wilds of the African bush where they spent 48 hours before rescuers could reach them. One had a leg fractured in the forced landing. While they waited for rescue lions, elephants and other denizens of the jungle began to appear.

Most of the air routes of the world lie over the waste or uninhabited places. Motor roads are not built thru the wilds but in civilized communities. But distance flying is almost certain to take travelers thru regions where landing would be fraught with unpleasantness and even peril and hardship.

Even in our own country, the main air routes extend above desert and mountain wastes and over vast plains where the homes are several hundreds of miles apart. The traveler is not only with the danger of accident in landing on unfamiliar ground, but also with long waits for assistance after he lands. In such cases other planes passing the spot bring the best hope of relief. It was a searching plane that discovered the London girls in the jungle bush. Thus aviation alone can overcome its hazards.

The Financial East

A north Dakota man has exploded a bombshell by introducing a resolution advocating the secession of 33 states from the Union, leaving nine states in the east, which the legislator declares have been acting rich at the expense of the rest of the country.
He would therefore isolate those naughty states and have nothing more to do with them. The nine include the six New England states and New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

This is the first time since the civil war that secession has been officially advocated. It is being done to arouse the people of the suffering 33 states to a realization of what is happening to them. It may do something else that has not been expected. The resolution proposes to cut the 33 states off from the financial east, abolish all trade between the two countries, also all social intercourse.

This would of course mean that the greatest buying market in the world would be cut off from the great agricultural region of our middle west and south. A vast amount of our products moves east, and were we to be deprived of the eastern market, we would face a far worse depression than we have at present. We would have to build up new channels of trade and new market outlets in foreign countries.

At the same time the east could live by simply lowering its tariff wall. It could buy the cheap food and raw materials from all the world.
Business in other nations would receive when it became known that the vast industrial region of eastern America was calling for every kind of commodity under heaven. But in the 33 states which had seceded, depression and misery would spread like a pall, as agriculture, trade and commerce were stagnated.

Nobody need worry about that resolution in the North Dakota legislature. It is only a smile screen, a dramatic move to attract attention and arouse the people to the evils of the evils of financial domination.
But it will also show them that the tremendous market the east provides cannot be thrown into the discard.

WINCHESTER TO SEED MEET TEAMS

Expect To Have Pairings Completed By Saturday—Look For Toughest Tournament In Many Years With Leaders Entered.

Winchester, Jan. 17.—(Special)—The ten teams entered in Winchester's tenth annual invitational high school basketball tournament will be seeded on Saturday of this week, according to the plans and pairings for the first round will be made known late Saturday evening. Officials who will handle the tournament were made known today and coaches were advised of last minute arrangements which are designed to help the teams enjoy their stay in Winchester.

A regulation size silver basketball mounted on a pedestal will be the trophy which will go to the championship team, and a smaller size silver ball will be awarded to the runner-up. The battle for the trophies promises to be greater than it has been for a number of years, with ten strong teams many of them rivals, lined up for the tournament.

Leigh Greene and C. F. Cap Crowsley of Quincy have been selected to officiate on the floor, and H. B. Corrie, ag teacher at Winchester, has been appointed official timer. A representative of the Jacksonville Journal-Courier has been appointed official scorer.

Friday night has been set as the deadline for turning in rankings by the principals and coaches of the ten teams entered. By this method, the opinions of each of the officials of the schools involved is obtained, and the teams are ranked accordingly. Number one ranking team will play the team ranked sixth, number two will play number seven and so on until all teams are matched.

Ranking of teams in this year's tournament is going to be difficult. Pleasant Hill is undefeated in the Illinois Valley conference and is the close game to Pittsfield in the Pittsfield holiday tournament. Pittsfield later lost to Pleasant Hill in a conference game. Winchester also lost two close decisions to Pittsfield, and has lost only one game in the Illinois Valley conference. Jacksonville high went to the finals of the Beardtown invitational tournament and lost out in one overtime period. Murrayville's record is not as well known, but the Raiders have been hitting along at a merry clip this year.

Jerseyville, another undefeated team in the Illinois Valley conference, boasts a victory over Jacksonville, Nebo, the team which has won the tournament for the last three years, apparently will enter the tournament ranked far down in the list. Winchester, which has not won a tournament since 1927, sees hopes of winning a title after five years of seeing the trophies go to other teams.

Rooms will be provided for teams that remain in Winchester until they are eliminated, although all games will be played at night, with the exception of the semi-finals. An escort will be assigned to each team to do errands and to obtain information in the visiting coaches.

YANKEES OFFER RUTH $50,000

New York, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The New York Yankees first offer to Babe Ruth for his services in 1933 called for a salary of $50,000, the home-run singer revealed tonight.

This offer, a reduction of $25,000 in the salary he received last season, the Babe rejected indignantly. He received the contract yesterday afternoon, took one look at the figures and promptly returned it, unsatisfied to the Yankee headquarters today.

Beyond confirming the exact terms of the initial offer, Ruth had no further comment to make on his arrangement with the world champion "front office" at this stage of the proceedings.

The simply reiterated his previous declaration that the Yankees would have to "raise the ante" considerably if they wanted him to a contract.

Although a reduction in Ruth's salary had been fully expected, few observers anticipated a $25,000 slash exactly equalling that which Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis vehemently accepted. The commissioner received his report from $55,000 to $30,000.

As a matter of fact, it is probable that not even Ed Barrow, business manager of the Yankees, expects the Babe to put his "O.K." on the first offer. Rather it was virtually certain that a compromise would be effected with Ruth and Cal. Jacob Ruppert, Yankees owner, get together for their annual council.

Most baseball men thought the Babe eventually would sign a contract calling for a salary of not less than $60,000.

If the Yankees and Ruth split the $50,000 difference, as was done last spring, the Babe will collect $62,500, and probably be content.

Neither Ruth nor Ruppert indicated any desire to come in the near future on the subject.

It was clear, from the Ruth side, that Yankees do not intend to permit their status as world champions to interfere with a definite policy of economy. On the basis of a one-third reduction for the Babe, most of the other veterans may expect a reduction in 1933 salary.

All of the 29 other Yankees, except pitcher Danny MacFayden, must sign new contracts. MacFayden, acquired from the Red Sox last year, has a hold-over contract for this year.

ELLIOTT TO MEET QUINCY HEAVY

George Meyer, National Golden Gloves Champ To Bring Fighter Here For Thursday Night Show—Tickets Move Fast.

Bob Elliott, Jacksonville no heavy-weight, will meet Luther Reagan, colored heavyweight of Quincy, in a four round exhibition boxing match on the card of eight amateur bouts and one wrestling bout to be held Thursday night in the auditorium, in order to supply the demand for reserues seats, 33 reserved seats will be placed on sale the night of the fights, and tickets for these seats may be obtained at the general admission sale.

Tickets for the affair, which is sponsored by the American Legion for the benefit of its hospitalization and relief committee, have been moving good according to reports from the places where the tickets are on sale. Manager Wood said just again that in order to supply the demand for reserues seats, 33 reserved seats will be placed on sale the night of the fights, and tickets for these seats may be obtained at the general admission sale.

Tonight will be the last of the training camp for the Jacksonville team which will meet the intra-mural champions of the University of Illinois. The entire team is in good condition, and will be ready for anything the University has to offer.

Clarence Robinson, middleweight of the Jacksonville team, is on training for his first knock-out victory. He has developed a hard smashing right hand, and hopes to have a chance to use it against the opponent matched against him, Robinson, who has been winning decisions almost ever since he first donned gloves, but has yet to score his first knock-out decision.

That Robinson will not be any set-up is attested in the fact that he beat the national A.A.U. heavyweight in his last amateur fight. Reagan has had only a few professional fights, and weighs 180 pounds, his record closely approximating that of the local fighter.

Work will begin today in getting the arena into shape for the bouts. The ring will be placed in the center of the hall for these fights, and there will be no rine-side seats for sale. Those who arrive first at the arena may have their choice of seats.

OHIO STATE LEADS BIG TEN CAGERS

Activity Will Become Limited During Coming Three Weeks Because Of Semester Examinations; Illini Takes Defeat.

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
Associated Press Sports Writer
Chicago, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Sole survivor in the battle against defeat, Ohio State today had a lease on the leadership of the Western conference basketball title race, at least until Feb. 4. With the opening of the new week yesterday, Ohio and Wisconsin technically shared the lead, with two and three straight triumphs, respectively. But while the Buckeyes were triumphing, Ohio State also gained the Northwestern was taking care of Wisconsin, winning easily, 40 to 22, at Evanston.

There will be little activity during the next three weeks, what with mid-semester examinations, and as the Buckeyes remain out of action until Feb. 4, first place will be safe enough. Purdue, with a reorganized lineup, pulled up to the 500 mark last night by smothering Minnesota, 40 to 16, at Lafayette. It was Minnesota's third straight beating and just about wrecked a lot of bright hopes held in Minneapolis before the campaign opened. Ohio also gained a good break for the season, but had all kinds of trouble in beating Chicago, 36 to 32. On Saturday Michigan plays at Chicago, and Illinois and Northwestern meets at Evanston for their second round of the campaign.

Following Ohio State and its three straight victories, today's Northwestern and Northwestern, with records of three games won and one lost, Michigan had won two out of three, and Illinois, Purdue and Iowa had broken even in four games. Indiana had a mark of one victory in three starts, while Minnesota and Chicago had lost three and four straight, respectively.

MAY SETTLE LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

Lansing, Mich., Jan. 17.—(AP)—A match between Eddie Benavente, of New York, and Joe Knight, of Chicago, is proposed by James M. (Bingo) Brown, president of the National Boxing Association, to settle the rather muddled title situation existing in the light heavyweight division.

Brown has sent letters to boxing commissioners in member states asking approval of such a match for the title declared vacant a month ago when George Nichols failed to defend the championship he won in the Milwaukee tournament last year, within the prescribed eight months period.

All of the replies received thus far, Brown said, have expressed approval and prospects are that any legitimate contender who arranges the bout in N. B. A. territory will receive official sanction.

Rosenbloom is recognized in New York as the light heavyweight champion, but never has won recognition by the N. B. A. Brown said he considered Knight, on his record, a worthy contender for the title.

The fight probably would result in the crowning of a champion recognized in all states.

Nichols is reported to have developed trouble with his hands since he fought his way through to victory in the Milwaukee tournament.

London, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Samuel James Furnace, who was in custody on a charge of murdering his friend, Walter Spatchett, died early today in St. Pancras hospital from the effects of a self-administered poison.

Ever since Furnace was found suffering from the poison in a police station cell early yesterday, his doctors and staff of the hospital worked desperately to save his life but without avail.

Second Quarter Spurt Piles Up Eight Point Lead; Third String Beats Berlin Seconds

Jacksonville high had a couple of defensive shots at them last night, and although they scored more rapidly by against a zone set-up, they didn't waste much time in going through. New Berlin's man-to-man defense to win a 24 to 12 victory. Most of the excitement of the evening was packed into the opening tilt, in which the Crimson reserves, or third string, defeated New Berlin's second team 35 to 21, the Crimson pulling away from a one point lead in the last two minutes of play to clinch the game.

New Berlin's varsity club didn't show as much class as is the custom, but they opened the game with bursts of speed that left the Jacksonville fans gasping just a little. They took the opening tip off, executed a few snappy passes to get the ball to the basket, and then missed the shot.

That missed shot seemed to be characteristic of their play for the remainder of the evening, because they worked the ball in during the opening half, but couldn't sink the leather.

Then the Crimson, after they had recovered from the shock of that first big push to the basket, came out fighting and grabbed the lead. Duerwer dropped in a free toss to open the scoring. Schupp hit a field basket for New Berlin, and Duerwer tied up the score with another free toss. Hudson dropped in a pair of free throws to get the lead, but Schupp and Wilson hit free throws to tie the score again.

Most of the excitement of the game was packed into the opening period. Burds gave New Berlin a free throw to open the second period, but Hudson and Day began boring through New Berlin's zone set-up and rolled the score to 15 to 5, which New Berlin bettered by Wilson's bucket just before the period closed.

New Berlin used its man-to-man defense during the last half, but aside from some lay-up scoring, they were unable to do anything by burrowing into the J. H. S. defense. The third period closed 18-8, and the final quarter was all J. H. S. New Berlin tried to get back in the running with long shots, but most of the efforts were missing the basket by wide margins.

The Crimson did a very creditable job in tossing in free throws, missing only five during the evening. New Berlin (12) FG FT PF TP

LANDOWNER HAS FAITH FARMING WILL IMPROVE

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Repeal bills, seeking to erase from Illinois statutes the Illinois prohibition law and search and seizure act, will be held up in the Senate, until a bill providing regulatory measures for liquor traffic appears, Senator R. V. Graham, president pro tem of the Senate announced today.

This is in line with the suggestion of Governor Horner, made in his inaugural address.

In the House the same two bill will likely be advanced from second to third reading today, putting the black and rock with the Senate bill, and there they will stay, until regulatory provisions, replacing those in the prohibition act, catch up with them.

Opening of the sessions of both House and Senate was delayed to more than an hour today, as the joint conference on sales tax, with Governor Horner, they expected, would determine what kind of a sales tax bill, would have the governor's approval.

Appointment of committees in the House and Senate will be one of the big jobs to be disposed of, probably this week. Speaker Arthur Roe is busy with the task and the Senate executive committee, which will be named today, will get busy at once. There is no indication that the number of committees in the House will be reduced materially, but on the Senate side it is probable that several committees will be eliminated. The executive committee is to be reduced to fifteen members.

Among the committees which are expected to be done away with are aviation, constitutional amendment, county government, efficiency and economy, fees and salaries, Lincoln Memorial and World's Fair. Subject having to do with aviation will be considered by the roads commission.

Committee Appointments to be Announced This Week

By R. P. HOWARD
Associated Press Staff Writer
Urbana, Ill., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Harper Sibley, who counts his acres by tens of thousands, believes in future of American agriculture and advises young men to buy land while the price is low.

Profits will return for the corn the hog farmer of middle west, although prices and costs may not be readjusted for several years, he said today.

With his optimism, Sibley criticized as "beyond reason" the farm relief bill before Congress, although he favored the original voluntary domestic plan.

Sibley's belief in agriculture in America is based on observations during year's trip around the world, recently completed.

His background is that of the third generation manager on an estate which has tenants on 13,000 acres of land in Ford county, Illinois. He lived his office at 9:30 and at 10:30 hundred near his home at Rochester, New York, six thousand at Templeton, Calif., and 40,000 at High River, Alberta.

Speaking before rural audience during farm and home week at the University of Illinois, Sibley urged farm relief legislation as an "injection" of prosperity into a country where plans are made for the future.

The domestic allotment plan has been over-loaded in Congress, he said. "The original idea," Sibley declared, "of working with basic export crops—wheat and cotton—had a very large measure of promise. The idea of controlling crop production, which the bill started to do, must be developed."

"But the farm bill has now gone beyond reason. Inclusion of too many commodities has made it impracticable of operation, for example, but, it has been added to the plan. It would take a bureaucratic army to try to enforce every farmer to reduce his butterfat marketing."

Sibley's long-term suggestions for agricultural aid include intelligent adjustment of supplies to the demand and means of reducing production and an uninterrupted study of ways to reduce surplus.

He is a member of special agricultural committee appointed by national Chamber of Commerce.

Sibley does not believe in corporation farming. He studied hired labor methods, but will continue to operate his acreage through tenants, who rent the land on the crop-share lease plan.

Many of his tenants have farmed Sibley land for three generations. He refuses to sell his farms. The tenants prefer to remain his partners.

Sibley is grandson of Hiram Sibley, former seaman at Chicago who acquired immense acreage as part of seed business. He owns one-third of the estate and manages it for other heirs. The Canadian ranch is largely
